I have learnt from Mr Watson that the Commonwealth Affairs Committee meeting has been postponed, and a new date has not yet been fixed. The draft letter to Sir Alan Lascelles is ready to go when Cabinet approval has been obtained. You may wish to see the papers might then be put by for the moment. (15) The amendments suggested may be accepted & I have incorporated them in the Press Communiqué at (11) along with that suggested at (13).

It is proposed (para 1 of (15)) to publish the Communiqué in the local papers on the morning of 2nd March & publication shd. be made simultaneously here. Before the date of publication is finally fixed you have suggested that consideration shd. be given to the desirability of informing the House of these administrative changes in Brunei by means of a reply to an answered P.Q.

This wd. have the advantage of our getting in first with an authoritative statement of the facts before distortion & insinuation can do any damage. Also in view of the interest now being taken in F.M. territories, it seems worth while, on that ground alone, to arrange an opportunity of giving this information to the House.

If this course is approved, then it will be necessary to postpone publication of the Communiqué until <sup>Thursday</sup> 4th March, i.e. the day following Question Day.

16. Note by Sir Gerald Whiteley 24. 2. 48.

I learn from Mr. Morris that the date of the ~~proposed~~ amalgamation of the posts of Gov. Genl. & Sp. Com. in S.E.A. has not been fixed or given publicity in the F.O. ~~we~~ feel that at this stage it is undesirable to make <sup>any definite</sup> reference to the date, & suggest amendment in this respect of paras. 1 & 2(a) of the Press Communiqué at 11.

2. The F.O. are also anxious that in the communiqué's description of the new post should avoid as far as possible reference to the Governor General element as in discussions ~~with~~ of the new amalgamation of the posts of G.G. & Sp. Com. in S.E.A. with foreign states the retention of the title of Gov. Gen. has aroused some suspicion & adverse criticism. They have  $\therefore$  suggested a means of getting over their difficulties in this respect as in the <sup>proposed</sup> amendments to ~~the~~ (11) which I have put opposite.

3. As regards date, I see no objection to the more general reference proposed for para. 1 & the elimination of any reference to the date in para 2(a)

4. Nor do I see any objection to the proposed amendments opposite to paras 1 & 2(a), The substitution of the personal reference to Mr MacDonald in para 2(b) is perhaps not so happy as the original 'Gov. General' but does not seem to be of any very real consequence. It will at any rate be clearly understood locally.

I think therefore we might accept the D.O. suggestions & ~~just~~ clear them with the Ag. Gov. Genl.

17. Press Announcement Incorporating F.O. amendments

Mr. Seel

I attach at (17) a revise of the proposed Press communique incorporating the Foreign Office amendments set out in Sir Gerald Whiteley's note at (16), which I agree we might accept. I presume the Foreign Office point is that they wish to avoid the implication that on the amalgamation of the two posts, Mr. MacDonald's principal role will be that of Governor-General.

I submit a draft telegram to the Acting Governor-General agreeing to the amendments suggested by him in No.15 and putting to him the above Foreign Office amendments. I have also included a paragraph saying that we have under consideration the possibility of an announcement in Parliament, and asking the Governor-General in the meantime to defer making final arrangements for the local publication on the 2nd March.

If there is to be any postponement of the date of local publication it is desirable that the Acting High Commissioner should be informed of it at once, and that the telegram should not be delayed to get a decision on the question of arranging for a P.Q. and simultaneous publication here and in Malaya.

If the draft telegram is agreed as it stands, it might be detached from the file, which could then be submitted for a decision on the question of an arranged P.Q. Personally I am in favour of the new arrangements being made known to the House in this way.

G. C. Whiteley

Mr. Mayle

I have passed the afo. telegram.
But I think it sh<sup>d</sup> be available on the file when you submit the proposal for a P.Q. This will have to be on March 3rd. I take it, so that the G. High Commissioner's programme will

The two telegrams referred to in my minute of the 25th February have gone off (Nos. 18 and 19) and if there is to be an arranged Question it should, as you have pointed out, be asked on the 3rd March.
If, however, there is not to be an arranged Question, the Acting High Commissioner can go ahead with his arrangements for local publication on the morning of Tuesday the 2nd March.

there

In view of the discussion which has been in the House on Malayan, including Sarawak, affairs and the facility with which misunderstandings may arise over the new Brunei arrangements - intentionally, or unintentionally - I think there would be a definite advantage in arranging a Parliamentary Question so that it can be made clear to the House at the outset that the new arrangements are of a purely administrative nature and that no treaty revision is involved.

Mr. Roberts-Wray

In your min. of 11/5 you asked to see a copy of the new enactment governing Appeals from Borneo. The relevant file, 59709/13/48 & the bound volume of Laws are attached.

16/9 Ashton

Sir S. Abraham

I shall be grateful if you will consider this when you have time.

21/9.

Mr. Roberts-Wray

This Enactment effects two very important changes. It does away with the original & appellate jurisdiction of the High Court of Singapore & with the appellate jurisdiction of the Court of Criminal Appeal of Singapore in Borneo cases.

22

It leaves the Court of the Resident Borneo as the highest Court of <sup>criminal</sup> jurisdiction in the State & constitutes the C.J. Sarawak a Judge of Appeal from the Resident in his original & appellate jurisdiction.

R. S. S. S.
22/10/18

Sir J. Abrahams.

I have not time to study this, but I understand that previously the law provided for:-

1. unlimited criminal jurisdiction for the Court of a Resident;
2. Jurisdiction in capital cases for the Supreme Court in the Straits Settlements;
3. an appeal from either <sup>to</sup> the Supreme Court or the Court of Appeal of the Straits Settlements, according to the nature of the offence;

Enactment

and that this <sup>an appeal to</sup> has been substituted for the Supreme Court of Sarawak for 3.

The first of these amendments appears to me to be a retrograde step in that it removes the possibility of a trial for murder before a legally qualified judge. Further, convicted persons are now deprived of their appeal to a properly constituted Appeal Tribunal.

I should see much advantage in substituting the Supreme Court of Sarawak for the Supreme Court of the Straits Settlements with facilities for appeal to Singapore. I see that in the minutes of the Conference of Governors held on the 5th and 6th November the Secretary-General said that he did not consider it would be fair to require litigants to take their appeals to Singapore. That may be so. I have no knowledge of the practical difficulties but he did not appear to be referring to criminal cases. The Courts of the Straits Settlements were brought into the picture before the war and, prima facie, there is no particular reason why the Courts of Singapore should not be used now. Perhaps in practice, however, cases were never taken to the Straits Settlements and in any event this ties up with the whole question of proper appeal facilities which is under discussion on other papers. I suppose, therefore, we had better leave the matter for the time being.

If I have misunderstood the position I should be grateful if you would let me know, otherwise please send this file on to the Department.

MR. ASHTON VINTAGE N 59709/16/46

Mr. McPetrie

Any legal observations, please?

Sgd. J.C. ASHTON
15/11.

Mr. Ashton

To obviate the necessity of a detailed examination in this office of all colonial legislation, every colonial enactment is required to be accompanied by a legal report drawn up in accordance with the provisions of Colonial Regulation 153(2). The reason for this is fully explained in a circular despatch of 8th December, 1929.

Colonial Regulation 153 does not apply to Brunei enactments and since His Majesty has no power to disallow Brunei legislation it has not hitherto been the practice to submit legal reports with Brunei enactments. At the same time we do under treaty arrangements have a power of advice in Brunei which could be exercised in respect of any provision of Brunei legislation which seemed to us objectionable. From this it follows that Brunei enactments require the same scrutiny in this Office as is given to ordinary colonial enactments and for this purpose I think that the High Commissioner should be asked to submit with each Brunei enactment the same sort of report as is required by Colonial Regulation 153(2) and he had better start by letting us have such a report on Enactment No. 8 of 1948 which is a fairly long and important bit of legislation.

I attach a photostat copy of the circular despatch of 8th December, 1929 which can be sent to the High Commissioner in case he has none available.

Sgd. J.C. McPETRIE
20/11

Sir Gerald Whiteley.

24

I agree with Mr. McPetrie and submit accordingly a draft despatch.

I assume that there is no constitutional objection to asking a technically independent State to adopt this colonial practice. Mr. Roberts-Wray should see?

~~I have indicated~~ We have to remember that there is still only one law officer in Sarawak, to serve both Sarawak and Borneo, and that the High Commissioners may therefore reasonably ask for the new practice to be postponed at least until an Assistant Attorney-General has been appointed. Hence the invitation to comment, given in para. 4 of the draft.

KG Phelan
30/11

Mr. Roberts-Wray

I put up an alternative draft following Mr. McPetrie's minute.

The Supplementary agreement of 1905 & 1906 containing the 'power of advice' is flagged in the Annual Report for 1946 enclosed.

There is point in Mr. Ashton's final paragraph. The Governor will no doubt tell us if he has any objections to raise on that score.

G.E. Whiteley
30/11

SIR G. WHITELEY .

I have amended the draft. I agree generally with Mr. McPetrie, but I doubt whether ~~the~~ Brunei enactments require quite such careful scrutiny as is given to Colonial Ordinances. At the same time it is only reasonable that the draftsman of Brunei enactments should be expected to provide us with some sort of report. He must know what every enactment is intended to do, and it should not involve very much work to him to prepare a note as he goes along. For this reason, I suggest that the despatch need not emphasise too much the Governor's right, which must of course be conceded, to object.

A small point on your first paragraph is that Brunei enactments are not expressly sent to the Secretary of State for his observations, or even for his information.

4 17/3/44 44 to Brunei - Despatch No. 75 of 8.12.1939

in letter Whiteley

We hear quite a lot about the political and ~~economic~~ <sup>social</sup> developments which are taking place in Sarawak, despite the lasting shortages of staff and materials. Of Brunei, however, we hear very little, though we know that heavy damage was done ~~there~~ <sup>there in</sup> the war and that the oil industry at least has recovered remarkably well. I am inclined to think that Brunei is the Cinderella of the Borneo territories and that Sir Chas. Arden Clarke may not yet have got into the habit of thinking in ~~of~~ his dual capacity as Governor of Sarawak and High Commissioner for Brunei. The draft opposite is therefore intended to draw out his ideas on a policy for Borneo, particularly in the 26 constitutional and local government field, which is possibly the least affected by ~~the~~ shortages of staff and materials.

K.P. Shewan
24/12

I think the 1948 Estimates indicate that a considerable amount of attention is being given to rehabilitation ~~also~~ generally & to development & improvement of <sup>the</sup> Agriculture & Medical & Education

THE COLONIAL OFFICE,

THE CHURCH HOUSE,

GREAT SMITH STREET,

S.W.1.

7 December, 1948

Sir,

I have the honour to address you with reference to the furnishing of explanatory reports with enactments of the state of Brunei.

2. In the case of Colonial legislation, as you are aware, Colonial Regulation 153 requires that every Colonial enactment should be accompanied by a legal report drawn up in accordance with the provisions prescribed therein. The purpose of the regulation is briefly to obviate the unnecessary duplication in this office of work involved in the detailed examination of Colonial legislation, and is more fully discussed and explained in Mr. Macdonald's despatch of the 8th December, 1939, of which a copy is enclosed for ease of reference.

3. It has not hitherto been the practice to submit legal reports of this kind with Brunei Enactments, the reasons no doubt being that Colonial Regulation 153 does not apply to Brunei enactments and His Majesty has no power to disallow Brunei legislation. There is however, under the Supplementary Agreement of 1905 and 1906 a power of advice in Brunei which could of course be exercised in respect of any provision of Brunei legislation should the necessity arise. It is therefore necessary for Brunei enactments to be scrutinised in this office, and it would greatly facilitate this scrutiny if Brunei enactments could be accompanied by a legal report of the kind required by Colonial Regulation 153.

4. I shall be glad if you will consider this matter, and, subject to any observations you may have, if arrangements can be made for the submission of legal reports on Brunei enactments when they are forwarded to me. It would be convenient, if this arrangement could be initiated in respect of Brunei Enactment No. 8 of 1948 which is a long and important

Office of His Highness the Sultan
Brunei, 1st May, 1948.

Your Excellency Sir Charles Arden Clarke,
K.C.M.G., Governor of the British Colony of Sarawak and the High Commissioner for the State of Brunei, Darul-Sallam, the Honourable the British Resident, Wzier Wazier, Mentri Mentri, Members of the State Council, Heads of Departments of the Government Service, Pengiran Pengiran, Towkay Towkay, Ladies and Gentlemen present here at this ceremony -

I, Ahmad Tajuddin, Sultan and the Yang Di-Pertuan of the State of Brunei, Darul-Sallam, on behalf of myself, my people and all the inhabitants of this State, wish to express my very happy feelings and my thankfulness to the Almighty God that I am today given the appropriate opportunity to express in few words of welcome to His Excellency Sir Charles Arden Clarke, K.C.M.G., to this State.

(Contd. page 2)

At Istana Alkahu Fiddunia,
Brunei, Darul-Sallam,
This 1st May, 1948.

Today, in fact, is a day of sparkling brightness to this State and a day of great rejoicings to the people. I say so because we are today blessed with a fortune to welcome such a great man in the person of Sir Charles Arden Clarke, K.C.M.G., who had come here to be our High Commissioner, an Officer and Knight of distinctive abilities and of a high-ranking position to be the Representative of His Majesty the King in our State.

I, together with my subjects, and all the inhabitants of this State entertain very high hopes and full confidence that during your tenure of Your Excellency's service in this State as our High Commissioner, Your Excellency will endeavour to do the best you can with a heart of sincerity to bring about with every success, advancement, progress and prosperity to this State and to my people, particularly on education by which it is hoped my people shall be able to achieve their long cherished desire.

Today is a day of great historical event in the State of Brunei, and an occasion which we shall forever remember. I and all the inhabitants of this country raise our hands in prayer to the Almighty God that Your Excellency be spared long enough to remain as our High Commissioner so that we might be able to witness the distinctive progress which will bring more wealth and riches to this State, and which we all hope for.

I thus conclude my speech this morning and I thank you all for listening.

Speech by His Excellency the Governor of Sarawak.

---

Your Highness, Members of the State Council, Gentlemen -

I am most grateful to Your Highness for your speech of welcome on behalf of the inhabitants of the State of Brunei. The warmth of this welcome has been shown to me not only by Your Highness' kind words but by the reception which I have received in the streets of Brunei on my way from the wharf to this Council Chamber. As you know, this is not the first time that I have had the good fortune to visit your State, and such is the friendliness of the people of Brunei that I do not feel a stranger among you.

His Excellency Mr. Malcolm Mac Donald has today assumed office as Commissioner-General. He now combines the duties formerly attached to the posts of the Governor-General and the Special Commissioner. In this capacity his relationship to Brunei is the same as his relationship to the Federation of Malaya and the Colonies of Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo.

His interest in and contact with Brunei will be maintained, and I trust that he will continue to visit both Brunei and Sarawak as he did in the past, as often as the onerous duties of his new post permit. He has sent you a message which I shall now read to you -

I would have liked to be present in Brunei today when the Representative of His Majesty the King in Sarawak assumes the duty of High Commissioner for the State of Brunei. Unfortunately I only reached Singapore on a journey from England on the same date and so cannot come to Brunei. I wish to assure Your Highness and the population of Brunei of my continued close interest in the welfare of the State and of all its people and of my confidence in their progress under the new administrative arrangement for the office of High Commissioner. The new facilities which will become available to Brunei by these arrangements will help greatly to promote the welfare and prosperity of its citizens. I look forward to seeing Your Highness and my other friends on my next visit to your beautiful country and in the meantime I send my warm regards and best wishes to Your Highness and all people of Brunei.

You have just listened to the reading of the Commission by virtue of which I assume the office of High Commissioner for Brunei today. This is a simple administrative change and has no political implications of any kind. It was first announced on March 3rd, after having been approved by Your Highness and this State Council. The meaning of the change has already been explained throughout the State by the British Resident with the aid of the two Ministers and Your Highness' Representative.

I know that some fears were at first felt that Brunei was to be in some way "under" Sarawak and that it would lose its independent position as a Protected State. I should like to assure you afresh that such fears are groundless. There is no question of Brunei coming under Sarawak or Sarawak coming under Brunei, or the interests of one being sacrificed to the interests of the other. There is no question of this at all. The administration of the two countries will remain separate. There is no change in the status of Brunei, which remains a Protected State with a High Commissioner. The State of Brunei will continue to have its own Sultan, its own Constitution, its own laws, its own budget, its own flag, and its own stamps. It will not be asked to accept Sarawak Native Officers in the public service or to use Sarawak currency.

Although they are separate and distinct political units, Brunei and Sarawak are tied together by geographical position and by long historical association; they have many problems and interests, economic and social, in common. When before the war the High Commissioner for Brunei was the High Commissioner and Governor living in Singapore it was impossible for him to visit

Brunei as frequently as he would have wished. Now that your High Commissioner lives in Borneo in a Colony adjacent to your State, it will be possible for him to visit your State more frequently and give your affairs the personal study and attention on the spot which they demand. Similarly the Heads of certain technical departments in Sarawak, who now become the technical advisers of the Sultan, will also be able to visit Brunei more frequently to study its problems and assist with their advice towards the improvement of education and other services, whenever Your Highness and the British Resident feel in need of their help. The knowledge and experience gained in solving the problems of one will be used for the benefit of the other.

One of the subjects in which I hope that progress will be made is Education. I know that a wish for English education in Brunei lies very near Your Highness' heart and that Your Highness' subjects are also keenly interested in the matter. I should like to assure you that it is our intention that State Controlled English schools shall be set up in Brunei as early as possible in order to enable Your Highness' subjects to fill as many as possible of the posts in Brunei, whether in Government service or outside, which require English education.

Much has been done to make good the devastation and deficiencies left by the war and the years of enemy occupation, but the chief impediment to further progress in this sphere, as in so many others, is the lack of trained staff. It has been decided to recruit a European Educational Officer for Brunei who will be able to devote all his energies to improving the existing schools and at the same time plan and supervise the institution of English education in the State. The Secretary of State is aware of the urgent necessity for the appointment and I trust that a candidate will be selected very soon. Trained teachers are also urgently required. In the past Brunei has looked to the Federation of Malaya for assistance in the training of some of its teachers. There need be no fear that this assistance will be withdrawn. The Federation Government are reserving and will continue to reserve a quota of admissions for Brunei to the Sultan Idris Training College at Tanjong Malin. Here perhaps Sarawak, which is wrestling with a similar problem, will be able to provide further help to supplement that already given by Malaya, if Your Highness and the Council so desire, by reserving a quota of admissions for Brunei student teachers to the new Teacher Training Centre about to be opened at Batu Lintang near Kuching.

Brunei already makes use of the Leper Settlement and Mental Asylum established in Sarawak. It is possible that by agreement and co-operation improvements in these services can be effected to the mutual benefit of the two countries. In Brunei itself large scale improvements in the Health Services of the State hospital and the establishment of have been planned, among others the erection of a new travelling dispensaries along the principal roads and rivers. The desire of Your Highness and of Your Council to increase the prosperity and improve the standard of living and well-being of your people is manifest. You may rest assured that as Your High Commissioner I shall do all I can to help you achieve such aims.

In conclusion, I ask Your Highness, you members of the State Council, and all the people of Brunei to remember that, so far as you are concerned, I am not Governor of a neighbouring Colony but your own High Commissioner, and that it is my duty and responsibility to safeguard the interests and welfare of Brunei and its inhabitants and to provide for its future development and progress. This duty I shall do my utmost to discharge faithfully and impartially, not only when I am visiting Brunei but also when I am in Sarawak, where I shall be equally mindful of it.

I wish to assure Your Highness and the population of Brunei of my continued close interest in the welfare of the State and of all its people, and of my confidence in their progress under the new administrative arrangements for the Office of the High Commissioner. The new facilities which will become available to Brunei by these arrangements will help greatly to promote the welfare and prosperity of its citizens. I look forward to seeing Your Highness and my other friends on my next visit to your beautiful country, and in the meantime I send my warm regards and best wishes to Your Highness and all the people of Brunei. Your telegram C.G. No. 131.

As you know I had hoped to return to Singapore before this, in which case I had planned to be in Brunei for Arden-Clarke's swearing in. Unfortunately postponement of my arrival in Singapore makes this impossible on May 1st. I had rather hoped that it might be practicable to postpone ceremony in Brunei for, say, a fortnight when I could attend. I fear, however, that I forgot to send you an earlier message about this. If arrangements have proceeded so far that it would be very inconvenient to postpone them, they should of course go ahead. If on the other hand it is equally convenient to Arden-Clarke and Brunei authorities to postpone for couple of weeks, I should greatly like to attend ceremony as Commissioner-General and retiring High Commissioner for Brunei. Please arrange whatever is most suitable to Arden-Clarke, the Sultan and our other friends in Brunei.

In my absence it would be good if you could attend. But I suppose this is really impossible if the ceremony is on the same day as my arrival in Singapore. In that case I think the Resident will have to represent me, unless Earl visited Brunei for the occasion. I am agreeable to whichever course is the better.

Personal from Home for Malcolm MacDonald. Begins

1. We have assumed that 1st May is firm date for assumption of duties of High Commissioner Brunei by Arden Clarke. He has arranged tour which will get him to Brunei on 1st May, where he will remain until 3rd May.

2. He has enquired whether you or I or both of us will be present at Brunei on 1st May to take part in programme which has been arranged. I have told him that I would ask you on arrival in London but said that for the moment he should assume that you will not (repeat not) be present as I expect you will be fully occupied in Singapore in taking over your new duties and in talks with Cimson and Gent, etc. Please confirm. # 'Brunei Darusalam': A Malay Point Of View

I WAS extremely delighted and interested to read your recent editorial under the heading "A Bitter Pill for Brunei." As everybody knows, quinine is bitter, so it is on account of its bitterness that it is an effective remedy for the treatment of malaria. Consequently, Brunei by taking the bitter pill, if it is really a bitter one, has taken it for the good of the State and the people of Brunei.

Administratively, economically and geographically, the transference of the office of High Commissioner from Singapore to Kuching, Sarawak, is ideal.

Sarawak is now a British Colony and the Governor is appointed by H.M. the King in the same way as the Governor of the Colony of Singapore. Furthermore, he administers Brunei not in his capacity as Governor of Sarawak but as British High Commissioner representing His Britannic Majesty, and as long as Brunei remains an independent Sultanate under British protection, having its own national flag, legislation, budget, etc., and the various important posts are still filled by experienced, impartial and sympathetic British European officers, there is no reason at all why the people of Brunei should worry or be unhappy about the changes.

When the proposed changes were announced publicly in Brunei Town and in the other outlying districts early in the month, there was no sign or expression of any opposition, disapproval, discontentment or anti.

I am entirely in agreement with Mr. Anthony Brooke and thank him for all that he has written on the subject in your paper. To add anything thereto would only be superfluous. Tempora mutantur, et nos mutamur in illis.

Regarding the publication of the British Resident's (Mr. W. J. Peel) report it is agreed that it was somewhat belated, but having regard to the volume of work which had to be done consequent upon the translation of administration from B.M.A. to Civil, changes in personnel, paucity of statistical records and data, etc., the delay was unavoidable and Mr. Peel should be congratulated for having been able to write such an excellent report, Mas vale tarde que nunca.

You are correct, Mr. Editor, in saying that "the whole system of public services in the State is very backward and badly needs bringing up-to-date", and we therefore earnestly hope that with more revenue from oil and other sources coming in it is of paramount importance and extreme urgency that the Brunei Government should seriously consider without undue delay, first and foremost, the establishment ofukka Government English schools and the expansion and extension of medical and health services throughout the State.

It is, however, appreciated and this, in fact, is the argument always put forward, that there is at the moment a paucity of qualified teachers, professional and technical officers, as well as a dearth of materials and equipment; but, if the funds are available and the Government is genuinely prepared to spend and pay, these difficulties could certainly be surmounted with ease for moneta vincit omnia.

Long live the Sultanate under British protection and may Brunei Darusalam ever prosper and regain all its splendour and glory as in the days of yore

TOUR OF BRUNEI TO ANNOUNCE FORTHCOMING
ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGE

1. Although it had been proposed that the Pengiran Bendahara should accompany me as the Sultan's representative, the Sultan suggested that it would be more appropriate for both principal Ministers to go on the tour and also asked that Che Hassan, his private secretary, should accompany us as his personal representative. I raised no objection to this suggestion as it is usual for the Ministers to act as a pair, and Hassan has his ear to the ground in many places in the State. A further departure from the procedure already agreed was the assembly of other local officials and individuals in addition to penghulus and ketuass kampong. As the day of announcement approached it became apparent that the rumours mentioned in paragraph 3 of the Governor General's Savingram No.5 of 10th January 1948 had become widespread and it seemed advisable to make the announcement and explanations in front of as many people as possible. Accordingly I instructed District Officers to call together, in addition to penghulus and ketuass kampong, such other members of the community as might in future form a District Council. These included members of the Sanitary Board in those districts where one exists, the hospital dresser, the officer in charge police district, the mosque official, the head teacher and the Capitan China and other leading Chinese representatives. I also said that all Government employees and any members of the public who care to attend would be welcome. It is felt that this broadening of the assembly at each centre was justified by results.

2. The form of procedure adopted at each place was for a simple Malay explanation of the change to be given by the British Resident followed by the reading of the announcement in Malay. Short supporting speeches were then made by the Bendahara, the Pemancha (the second principal Minister), and Che Hassan, and the opportunity was given for questions or discussion. I should like to record here the valuable help given by the Bendahara who is universally popular and respected. The Pemancha also did his best and his absence would have been the subject of unfavourable comment. Hassan conveyed the Sultan's personal message in a simple and straightforward manner, emphasizing that the Governor of Sarawak was to become High Commissioner and not Governor of Brunei.

3. It had been necessary to arrange these meetings a few days in advance in order to give time to those penghulus, who lived far from headquarters, to make the journey, and the Secretary of State's late approval of the date of announcement necessitated some last minute modification of the programme and involved a fruitless journey in one or two cases. This was unfortunate but no harm has been done. The following centres were visited, (i) Kuala Belait, (ii) Tutong, (iii) Brunei Town, (iv) Muara Village, (v) Temburong (Bangar).

4. Kuala Belait. About 90 people had assembled and received the announcement calmly and with attention. When questions and discussion were invited Chegu Marsal, Superintendent....

Superintendent of Education, sprang to his feet. His most significant questions were - (1) Why cannot Brunei enter the Federation of Malaya and preserve the pre-war association? (2) Is this a titah (order) of the Sultan to the raayat? (3) Why was the raayat not consulted beforehand? After replies and further explanations, Marsal said that if it was the wish of the Sultan and the State Council the raayat would no doubt accept the decision. Marsal is disliked by most of the local inhabitants who remember his role in the Japanese Propaganda Department, and there was no sign that he made an impression on anyone present except the few pale faced gurus sitting behind him. The ketuas and penghulus expressed themselves as entirely satisfied and confirmed this after the meeting in private conversation with myself and also with the Ministers. I spoke to Marsal after the meeting and enlarged on the replies already given and the objections to his suggestions. I asked him if he was satisfied now that further explanations had been given and his misconceptions corrected. He replied that he was satisfied and when asked whether he would give the change the benefit of his support, he said that he would. I doubt, however, whether this is to be expected. One matter mentioned by him and also by other gurus to whom I spoke after the meetings elsewhere, was the fear that the change would mean that gurus would no longer go to the Tanjong Malim Training College. My reply was that I felt confident that Malaya would have no objection to continuing to allow our gurus to train at Tanjong Malim until an institution giving an equally high standard of training was set up in Borneo. Marsal is an earnest person and has always been politically minded. He was a prominent figure in the local youth movement before it petered out last year, and had been suspended from office by the B.M.A. on account of his activities in the Japanese Propaganda Department. I should also remark that he is an efficient officer and good organiser, and is invaluable in the Education Department at the present time.

5. Tutong. There was a very good audience of about 130 people who appeared to grasp the significance of the change and declared themselves quite satisfied. The local teacher did not raise his voice, but I took the opportunity of asking him afterwards what he thought of the change. He said he would have liked to see Brunei enter the Federation of Malaya. The Pehin Della Lena (who had written a disquieting letter to Mr. Pretty in December) lives in Tutong and attended the meeting. He told us he was very pleased with the result of the proceedings and saw no reason to expect any opposition now that rumours had been scotched and the simple truth revealed.

6. Brunei District. About 250 people were present in the Court House, including members of the State Council, the lesser Ministers, Pehins and Pengirans, Government servants and members of the public in addition to all the penghulus and ketuas. The addresses were very well received and the only significant questions were put by Head Teacher Jamli. (1) How is this going to benefit Brunei? This point had already been dealt with but was enlarged upon. (2) Is this gathering to confirm a decision.....

decision or to hear a decision already arrived at? The answers given appeared to satisfy all present, and after a pause in which no further questions were put a Government pensioner Pengiran Yusuf, who was formerly in some doubt about the change and who has considerable influence, got up and said "This matter appears very simple and has been well explained; everyone seems to understand it and to be satisfied. There appears to be no need for further questions". The atmosphere at the meeting was good and we were well pleased with the results. It was the most important gathering of the five, and one at which opposition had been thought possible. It was known that two members of the State Council had received anonymous letters saying that it was not right that the rasyat should not be consulted before Brunei became subject to Sarawak laws and lost its flag. The opportunity was taken at the meeting of dealing with this new fear.

7. Muara. About 60 people assembled in the school. The Pehin Seri Wangsa, the local territorial chief, who was a peon in the office of the first British Resident when the 1906 Treaty was signed, requested further confirmation that the change did not mean (1) that Brunei would be subject to Sarawak laws, (2) that Brunei finances would be controlled by Sarawak, (3) that Sarawak subordinate officers would be posted to Brunei, (4) that the Treaty would be affected, (5) that the Sultanate and Constitution would be prejudiced. On being specifically reassured on these points which had already been covered, he declared that he and the local people completely understood the significance of the change, and were entirely satisfied. The local school teacher enquired whether the meeting was to confirm the changes or merely to be informed of them, but had no other questions. The gathering was then provided with tea, which was enjoyed in a very cordial atmosphere.

8. Temburong (Banger). The village was en fete for our visit with decorations on public buildings and Dyaks in full native costume. About 180 people crowded into the school to hear the announcement which was received without question. All declared themselves well satisfied with the change, and the assembly terminated in applause.

9. As already reported by telegram there is now no sight of opposition to the change, except possibly in the case of a few members of the younger generation who formerly supported the Barisan Pemuda Youth Association. These people look to the left wing in Malaya for their political opinions, swallow them undigested and are apparently unable to adapt them to present day conditions in Brunei. The necessity for this tour and for making personal contact with as many responsible members of the population as possible was amply demonstrated. It was often possible to ferret out new doubts which might never have come to the surface and have remained unexploded. An example of this was the anxiety noticed in one district lest Brunei should no longer use Currency Commissioner's notes on which the State Emblem appears, and that Sarawak Currency would be introduced. It is my own opinion

and that of trusted Malay Advisors that all doubts have now been dispelled and that the overwhelming mass of the population is quite happy about the change. I should like to conclude with the opinion that had the change involved any closer association with Sarawak there would have been very real, though passive, opposition, not only from those of doctrinaire opinions, but also from the older and more responsible members of the community. This is partly due to the historic distrust of Sarawak, which still exists to some extent, and partly to the deep rooted conservatism of the inhabitants of this State in the mass.

EXTRACT FROM "STRAITS TIMES" SINGAPORE
DATED 13TH MARCH, 1948.

B R U N E I   A N D   S A R A W A K

Your editorial "A Bitter Pill for Brunei" contains an implied criticism of the new administrative changes which does not seem to be entirely merited.

You state: "This decision to put Brunei under Sarawak must have been a bitter pill for such of the people of that State as cherish their history and traditions...it cannot have been pleasant for His Highness Sultan Ahmed, the twenty-seventh of his line, to agree to the change which puts his government under the Governor in Kuching."

But surely Brunei according to the new arrangement is no more "under" Sarawak than Sarawak and the Malay States were "under" the Colony of Singapore in the days before the war?

HIGH COMMISSIONER

In pre-war times the Governor of the Straits Settlements exercised the additional function of High Commissioner for the independent Malay States and for Sarawak in an exactly analogous manner as the Governor of Sarawak now additionally assumes the role of High Commissioner for Brunei.

The Under Secretary of State for the Colonies has expressly reaffirmed the status of Brunei as an independent sovereign territory under His Majesty's protection.

It would therefore seem that Sultan Ahmed has every reason to feel proud of his success in reaching an agreement with His Majesty's Government whereby fresh facilities are to be extended to his territory, which is yet to retain its pre-war status in international law.

Sultan Ahmed and his subjects are especially to be congratulated upon their good fortune in avoiding the net of annexation which for many months after liberation from enemy aggression engirdled every other territory in Malaya and British-protected Borneo.

The Colonial Office are likewise to be commended for their wisdom and foresight in applying to their dealings with Brunei the lessons learnt from the failure of their earlier policy in Malaya.

Full legal sovereignty has since been restored to the Sultans in their respective States, and the policy reaffirming the independent sovereign status of Brunei is fundamentally consistent with the revised constitution for Malaya.

/UNDONE ELSEWHERE.....

UNDONE ELSEWHERE

It is not therefore what the Colonial Office have done in Brunei that invites criticism, but what they have left undone elsewhere. A sincere attempt is being made to erase the memory of the Foreign Jurisdiction Act in Malaya: the legal independence of Brunei, bordered on one side by the sea and on the other three sides by Sarawak, has been reaffirmed.

This leaves Sarawak, approximately the size of the entire area of the Federation of Malaya, as the only pre-war monarchy in the Far East, not excepting Japan, which has lost its sovereignty and independence after a war which was to end imperialist aggrandisement.

ANTHONY BROOKE.

Singapore.

(Brunei is of course only "under Sarawak" only in the sense that it is under the Governor of Sarawak in his new capacity of High Commissioner for Brunei. But, considering that Sarawak was under Brunei when the Brooke regime began, the difference between<sup>a</sup> High Commissioner in Kuching and in Singapore was perhaps not inappropriately described in the heading of our leading article. - Ed. (23) Reference your Secret telegram 217 of 2nd March. Following reactions to announcement have been received from British Resident, Brunei:

"Announcement was regarded with considerable suspicion until explained emphatically that it does not involve political or financial subjection to Sarawak or its laws or transfer here of Sarawak native officer. This and other explanations have been carefully given in 5 main centre states and I am satisfied that significant changes is now understood and that former objections and doubt based on rumours and misapprehensions have been dispelled. Only sign of opposition has come from isolated members of now dormant youth association notably school teachers, who have tried to suggest this announcement of fait accompli is undemocratic. They have negligible following and population as a whole has accepted forthcoming (advantages) willingly and wholeheartedly."

A detailed report of the British Resident's tour will follow.

AG. GOVGEN.

A BITTER PILL FOR BRUNEI

It is not often that the public in Malaya turns its eyes to the British territories in Borneo, and Brunei in particular is little more than a name over here. Before the war Brunei was lumped with Labuan, Christmas Island and the Cocos Islands as one of those odd bits of territory which were still governed from Singapore, but which nobody except the M.C.S. could be expected to know anything about. Yet Brunei, apart from its picturesque history and its famous river town (described in more than one book of travel as "The Venice of the East") deserves special attention as a Malay State in Borneo which must be grouped, not with the scattered bits of British territory mentioned above but with the Malay States in treaty relations with Britain. The same system of administration that was in force in the States of the Malay Peninsula before the war was followed in Brunei, and control was likewise exercised by the High Commissioner in Singapore. Last week it was announced that the Governor of Sarawak is to hold the office of High Commissioner for Brunei; and so was severed the link that has existed between Singapore and Brunei since 1906, when the Sultan first accepted a British Resident.

This decision to put Brunei under Sarawak must have been a bitter pill for such of the people of that State as cherish their history and traditions. In the sixteenth century, as readers were reminded in this page yesterday, Brunei was the most powerful state in Borneo and a great name throughout the Malay world. But what is more to the point today is that just over a century ago Brunei owned Sarawak. It was in 1841 that the Sultan of Brunei ceded a large slice of Sarawak to James Brooke, in return for his services in assisting the Brunei viceroy in Kuching, Raja Muda Hashim, to quell an insurrection. At various later dates the Sultan ceded more Brunei territory to the Brookes, and also to the Chartered Company of British North Borneo, as well as the island of Labuan to the Governor in Singapore as an anti-piracy base for the Navy; and thus Brunei was finally whittled down to the little state of 2,200 square miles, with a population of 48,000, that it is today.

Even though much has happened since the Sultans of Brunei ruled Sarawak, it cannot have been pleasant for His Highness Sultan Ahmed, the twenty-seventh of his line, to agree to the change which puts his government under the Governor in Kuching. But there were strong administrative reasons why this change should be made. The Governor-General is too busy to do what the High Commissioner in Singapore used to do for Brunei, and the Malayan Establishment Office has been finding it difficult to spare staff for Brunei. Since Brunei is too small to fend for itself, it seems best that it should draw ments of the neighbouring colony of Sarawak for the assistance that it badly needs. This arrangement is the more practicable in that there is now what there would not have been before the war—a right of appeal to the Governor-General in Singapore, whose relationship to Brunei will be the same as to Sarawak and North Borneo.

The latest source of reference for affairs in Brunei is one that will strike our readers as being surprisingly out of date, namely the report of the British Resident, Mr. W. J. Peel, for 1946. But as that printed report was only received by the Straits Times a few days ago, it may be doubted whether anything more up-to-date is available. It may also be doubted whether most of the social and economic problems on which Mr. Peel comments are any less serious in 1948 than they were when his report was written. "In the padi-growing areas malaria is the rule rather than the exception." "Hookworm infestation is common." "Tuberculosis is prevalent among all races." "There is no Government school teaching English in the State, although there are private and mission schools which do so." "There is a definite reluctance among parents to permit female children to attend the Malay vernacular schools...."

These samples from Mr. Peel's report show that there is plenty to be done in Brunei, in one way or another. In fact, the whole system of public services in the State is very backward and badly needs bringing up-to-date. But there is one great asset on which Brunei can count, and that is the Seria oilfield, worked by the British Malayan Petroleum Company, a subsidiary of the Shell group. Before the war, more than one third of the Brunei revenue came from oil, and the production of this oilfield is now being increased as fast as possible, so there should be money to pay for social progress in Brunei in the years to come. And Brunei certainly needs it.

GEORGE THE SIXTH, by the Grace of God of Great Britain, Ireland and the British Dominions beyond the Seas King, Defender of the Faith: To the person for the time being administering the Government of Our Colony of Sarawak, Greeting.

Whereas by a Commission under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet bearing date the Tenth day of December, 1906, His Majesty King Edward the Seventh did appoint the Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Straits Settlements, or in his absence the Lieutenant-Governor or the Officer for the time being administering the Government of the said Straits Settlements and their Dependencies, to be, High Commissioner for the State of Brunei, in the Island of Borneo, which said State is under Our Protection: Recites Commission of 10th December, 1906.

And Whereas We are minded to make fresh provisions for filling the Office of Our High Commissioner of the said State of Brunei, in the Island of Borneo, and for the due execution of the duties thereof:

Now therefore We do by this Our Commission under Our Sign Manual and Signet appoint you, the person for the time being Administering the Government of Our Colony of Sarawak, to be, during Our pleasure, Our High Commissioner for the said State of Brunei, and as such High Commissioner to act in Our name and on Our behalf, and in all respects to represent Our Crown and authority in matters occurring within the said State, and further to take all such measures and to do all such matters and things in the State aforesaid as in the interest of Our service you may think expedient, subject to such Instructions as you may from time to time receive from Us or through one of Our Principal Secretaries of State. Appointment of the Officer for the time being Administering the Government of Sarawak to be High Commissioner.

II. And We do hereby appoint that so soon as you shall have caused this Our Commission to be published in the said State, this Our present Commission shall supersede the above-recited Commission of the Tenth day of December, 1906. Commission of 10th December, 1906 superseded.

III. And further We do hereby command all and singular Our subjects to take due notice of this Our Commission, and to yield obedience thereunto, and to be aiding and assisting unto you, Our said High Commissioner, in the execution thereof. British subjects to take notice of Commission.

When these papers reached the Private Office on Saturday, 28th February, Mr. Proctor was in Manchester and nothing could be done about an arranged P.Q. until Monday mid-day. Both Sir G. Whiteley and Mr. Ashton were told about this on Saturday morning and Mr. Ashton took the papers away, returning them to me on the 1st March. There was some difficulty about getting Mr. Reid to put down the Question and when he did so instead of asking for a written reply on the 2nd March, he asked for an Oral reply on Wednesday, 3rd March.

Mr. Proctor therefore asked Mr. Reid to withdraw his question and approached Mr. David Jones, who promised to put down the Question (in a different form) for a written reply on 2nd March. The Speaker did not accept Mr. Jones's question until the morning of the 2nd March. He was told that until we were sure that the Question would be asked it was no use telegraphing to Singapore and Sarawak. I informed Mr. Ashton immediately the Speaker accepted the Question and he collected the papers from the Private Office.

Mr D.T. Jones.

To ask the Secretary of State for the Colonies whether any changes are contemplated in the administrative arrangements for Brunei.

DRAFT ANSWER

Yes Sir. Certain administrative changes have recently been agreed between the Governor-General and His Highness the Sultan and members of the State Council of Brunei, and approved by His Majesty the King. As the result of these changes the Governor of Sarawak will assume the duties of High Commissioner for Brunei; Heads of certain Sarawak technical departments will be available to act in an advisory capacity to His Highness the Sultan; and officers of the Sarawak Service will be seconded for service with the Brunei Administration in the same way as officers on the Malayan Establishment are now seconded. These changes are administrative and involve no alteration in the position of Brunei as a State under His Majesty's protection nor in the status and powers of His Highness the Sultan and his State Council.

PRESS ANNOUNCEMENT INCORPORATING
FOREIGN OFFICE AMENDMENTS

1. The amalgamation under Mr. Malcolm MacDonald of the posts of Governor-General, Malaya and of Special Commissioner in South East Asia will take place in the course of the next few months. Thereafter in order to relieve him of administrative duties in connection with Brunei it is desirable that another representative of His Majesty should take over those duties.

2. At a recent meeting between His Excellency and His Highness The Sultan and the members of the State Council of Brunei it was unanimously agreed that a number of administrative changes should be proposed. They have now received the approval of His Majesty the King on the advice of the Secretary of State and are as follows:-

- (a) On the amalgamation of the posts of Governor-General, Malaya and of Special Commissioner in South East Asia the Governor of Sarawak will assume the Office of High Commissioner for Brunei. As such he will exercise the same powers as were exercised before the war by the Governor and High Commissioner at Singapore.
- (b) Under the new arrangement Mr. MacDonald will have the same relationship to Brunei as he will have to the Federation of Malaya and the Colonies of Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo.
- (c) The British Resident, Brunei, will remain under the authority of the High Commissioner for Brunei and will retain the same powers as he now exercises.
- (d) The heads of certain Sarawak technical departments, e.g. the Education, Health, Public Works and Agriculture Departments, will act in an advisory capacity to His Highness The Sultan regarding their respective respective subjects. This will assist in meeting the wish of the authorities and people of Brunei for improved education and other services. Colonial Service officers on the Sarawak Establishment will be seconded for service with the Brunei Administration in the same way as such officers on the Malayan Establishment are now seconded.

- (e) Brunei will continue to have its own budget as before, and will pay the Sarawak Government for the services rendered in the same way as it now does for the services of officers in the Brunei Administration who are on the Malayan Establishment.

These changes are administrative and involve no alteration in the position of Brunei as a State under His Majesty's protection nor in the status and powers of His Highness The Sultan and his State Council.

1. The first part of the document is a letter from the President of the United States to the Congress, dated January 3, 1862. It is a very important document, as it contains the President's views on the state of the Union and the progress of the war. The letter is written in a very formal and dignified style, and it is one of the most important documents of the Civil War era.

G.G. No. 74

After consultation with Resident Brunei, propose that press communiqué should be released for publication in the local-morning papers Tuesday, 2nd March.

2. As result of preliminary discussions with Public Relations Offices here, suggestion has been made for two further amendments in the communiqué, which I shall be grateful if you will consider.

3. In the second sentence of paragraph 2 it is suggested that words "of His Majesty the King, on the advice of the S. of S." should be added after the word "approval". Fact that those changes have had His Majesty's approval will undoubtedly give general pleasure and satisfaction in Brunei itself and addition therefore seems worthwhile for purpose of assisting a good local reception to the announcement. I realize, however, you may think that this amendment is not desirable or wish to amend formal proposal.

4. In sub paragraph (c) paragraph 2 it is proposed include words "for Brunei" after words "His Commission". I think this is an important change to avoid any confusion with High Commissioner for the Federation.

5. Both amendments proposed have been discussed with Lord Listowel, who has agreed to them that he agrees with them.

6. Grateful to receive your very early reply.

I am answering your letter to Sir

His Majesty is pleased to approve

24th January, 1948.

Dear Sir Alan,

Before the war, under a Commission of 1st January 1906 passed under the Royal Sign Manual and Signet, the Governor of the Straits Settlements was also High Commissioner for the small Malay state of Brunei, on the North West Coast of Borneo. As a result of the constitutional changes in Malaya there is no longer a Governor of the Straits Settlements, and it is therefore necessary to make fresh provision for filling the office of High Commissioner for Brunei. The duties have in the meantime been performed by the Governor-General, Malaya. It is now proposed that the Governor of Sarawak, which surrounds and divides the territory of Brunei, should be appointed High Commissioner, and the Sultan of Brunei and his State Council have expressed their full agreement with this proposal to which it is hoped to give effect on the 1st May, 1948.

The British Resident, Brunei, will under this proposal remain under the authority of the High Commissioner for Brunei, and will retain the same powers as he now exercises. The Governor of Sarawak, as High Commissioner for Brunei, will have the same relationship to the Governor-General as do the Governors of Singapore and North Borneo, and the High Commissioner for the Malayan Federation, in respect of their territories.

Mr. Creech Jones would be grateful if you would ascertain whether the proposed change meets with His Majesty's approval. If so, a Commission will be prepared and submitted accordingly.

Yours sincerely,

(Sgd.) N.D. WATSON.

No. ~~4~~5 Saving.

SECRET

Following from HONE for MALCOLM MACDONALD.

ONE. Pretty and I visited Brunei and held very useful discussions with Peel and Davis who had just arrived.

TWO. Peel reports that some time after State Council Meeting at which you were present he took precaution of sounding several members to ascertain whether, after reflection, any of them were having second thoughts on the proposal. He has no repeat no reason to think that there is still anything but full continued support for the plan from them and the Sultan.

THREE. There are, however, some rumours now circulating in one or two places in the State that a change is to be made. As generally expressed, main rumour is that the Governor of Sarawak is to be appointed also Governor of Brunei. The reaction to this rumour is that some people are said to be asking why Brunei should be made subordinate to Sarawak.

FOUR. Peel feels (a) that a leakage from State Council and/or Hassan who apparently knows of the proposals was inevitable (b) that an early correction of the rumours is desirable (c) that official announcement will be well received if it is adequately explained to the people.

FIVE. In view of above and request to you by State Council that early announcement should be made, Pretty, Peel, Davis and I are all agreed that we should not await your return but that official statement should be made within a comparatively short period.

SIX. Peel leaves on 18th January and we think Davis should have time to get round the State once and meet the people before he has to put the announcement across. On this timetable, early March would be the best time. Such delay as this involves is thought by Peel and Davis to be immaterial, but method of announcement is obviously important.

SEVEN. Without my being present, Peel, Davis and Pretty discussed method fully but informally with Ibrahim Mohamed and Awang. On their own initiative, they suggested roughly what we had planned in first discussion we held after our arrival. It is that British Resident accompanied by Bendahara as Sultan's representative should tour every district in the State and call together all District Officers, penghulus and ketuas kampong in order to explain verbally to them the plan. This would take about a week. They made the very useful suggestion that explanation should include what the plan does not repeat not mean. Such as, it will not entail application of Sarawak laws or the posting of Sarawak native officers to Brunei. They confirmed that if carefully explained, plan will be fully acceptable and will scotch existing incorrect rumours.

/the

EIGHT. Pretty asks me to tell you that after very full discussion with his correspondent and the other members of State Council mentioned above he is now quite satisfied that no dangerous repercussions are to be expected from any section of the local population.

NINE. Above has been seen and agreed by Arden-Clarke to whom we reported on our return journey.

TEN. In our discussions at Brunei we had thought the local publication described above should preferably be made immediately before the official communique is released to world press, in case some mischievous person in Singapore or elsewhere put across some bad stuff to any part of Brunei before Resident had reached it. Admittedly this risk is small and can easily be dealt with if it occurs. Arden-Clarke therefore advises (and Pretty and I agree) that Resident should start his tour of country immediately after world release of official communique.

ELEVEN. If above is approved, I will communicate later with Colonial Office to fix final date of publication after getting views of Davis. Should propose press conference in Malaya to explain background just before release.

ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES IN BRUNEI

Note for discussion with Governor-General

1. We expect to get the Cabinet Committee's agreement to the proposed changes within the next week. They will then be submitted to the King. When H.M.'s approval has been given we can issue the Press communique, and take the necessary steps for making the changes, namely -

(a) the preparation and issue of a Commission appointing the Governor of Sarawak as High Commissioner for Brunei, and (b) the amendment of the memorandum relating to the Governor-General's status and duties.

2. As regards the Press communique, we suggest, for consideration, the following amendments in the draft set out in the Governor-General's telegram No.32 Saving:-

- (a) Amend first paragraph so as to read as follows - "The assumption of additional duties in S.E.A. by His Excellency the Governor-General this year makes it desirable that he should be relieved of his administrative duties in respect of Brunei and that another representative of His Majesty should take over those duties.
- (b) Substitute the word "proposed" for the word "made" in the fourth line of the second paragraph, ]
- (c) Omit the words, "and by the Governor-General since his appointment after the war" at the end of sub-paragraph (a) of the second paragraph.
- (d) Amend the last part of sub-paragraph (d) of the second paragraph so as to read - and re-word beginning of the following sentence to read -

"They have now received approval and are as follows:-
....."

"This

"This will assist in meeting the wish of the authorities and people of Brunei for improved education and other services."

3. The Governor-General will have learned from the Secretary of State's telegram No.12 (copy annexed) that we have not taken any action, in response to his telegram No.468 (copy also attached) to formalise his own appointment as High Commissioner for Brunei. As explained in the Secretary of State's telegram, such action would not have helped over the particular problem of the new Malayan Establishment Agreement which, in any case, for the reasons given, may no longer be a live issue. It is assumed that there is no reason why the Governor-General should not continue to act as High Commissioner for Brunei under his existing authority until the Governor of Sarawak becomes High Commissioner in May next, and that it is not necessary to issue a commission to the Governor-General as High Commissioner for Brunei for the short period involved.

Colonial Office,

GOVERNOR-GENERAL,

Your telegram G.G. No.468.

1. It would not be practicable to enable you to exercise any powers expressly conferred upon High Commissioner for Brunei unless you were formally appointed to (or to act in) the post by His Majesty. Memorandum on your Status and Duties, however, especially paragraphs 1, 7 and 10, gives you general authority similar to that of High Commissioner pending new arrangements.

2. As regards point in paragraph 2 of your telegram, I am advised on information immediately available here that even if you were commissioned as High Commissioner, you would not repeat not, as H.M.'s representative, have authority to sign any agreement on behalf of Brunei, and that any such agreement could only be signed by Sultan himself or someone duly authorised by him. Unless therefore anyone is already so authorised there would be no alternative but to approach Sultan for necessary authority if new establishment agreement is necessary.

3. If, however, procedure regarding existing agreements proposed in paragraph 4 of my telegram to Malayan Union No.1592 repeated to you as No.756 is adopted, there will be no need of a new establishment agreement in the immediate future and question in your telegram would not arise.

SECRETPRESS COMMUNIQUE.ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES IN THE STATE OF BRUNEI

The assumption of additional duties in S.E.A. by His Excellency the Governor-General next year makes it desirable that he should be relieved of his duties as High Commissioner of Brunei, and that another representative of His Majesty should be appointed to fill that office.

At a recent meeting between His Excellency and His Highness the Sultan and the members of the State Council of Brunei it was unanimously agreed that a number of administrative changes should be made. They have now received the approval of the Secretary of State for the Colonies and are as follows:-

- (a) On the assumption next year by the Governor-General of the additional duties of Special Commissioner for South East Asia, the Governor of Sarawak will assume the office of High Commissioner of Brunei. As such he will exercise the same powers as were exercised by the Governor of the Straits Settlements before the War, and by the Governor-General since his appointment after the War.
- (b) The Governor-General will have the same relationship to Brunei as he will have to the Federation of Malaya and the Colonies of Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo.
- (c) The British Resident, Brunei, will remain under the authority of the High Commissioner and will retain the same powers as he now exercises.
- (d) The heads of certain Sarawak technical Departments, e.g. the Education, Health and Agriculture Departments, will become also advisers to His Highness the Sultan regarding their respective subjects. This will meet the wish of the authorities and people of Brunei for improved education and other services.

(e).....

- (e) Brunei will continue to have its own Budget as before and will pay the Sarawak Government for the services rendered in the same way as it now does for the services of officers in the Brunei Administration who are on the Malayan Establishment.

These changes are administrative and involve no alteration in the position of Brunei as a State under His Majesty's protection nor in the status and powers of His Highness the Sultan and his State Council.

URGENT

1. My immediately following Savingram contains text of Press Communique about impending change in High Commissionership for Brunei, for your consideration. I discussed this with Arden Clarke when I was in Kuching last week, and the draft embodies our suggestions. I have now sent him a copy of the draft, in case he wishes to suggest amendments to its wording. I have also sent a copy to Peel in Brunei and asked him to send me any amendments which he desires.

2. I should like, if possible, to issue this statement for publication before I leave Singapore on January 7th. I hope, therefore, that it may be convenient to you to telegraph your comments and amendments in time for that.

3. I have asked Peel not to show the draft to the Sultan until I hear from you, in case you wish any substantial alterations. When we have reached agreement on the draft, Peel will show it to the Sultan prior to publication. When Peel and I had our talks with the Sultan and his State Council, they all urged that the new proposals should be published at an early date.
